English for Teachers 61-90 credits (93EN51) Spring Term 2020

Dear prospective student,

We would like to send you a warm welcome to English 61-90 credits!

The introduction to the course will take place on Tues, 21 January at 15.15-17 in Bildsal 2 (Key 4257, <http://www.liu.se/key/rum/bild2.png>).

For information about your course, go to <https://liu.se/studieinfo/> and click on “kurs” and enter your course code (93EN51). Select the correct term in the box “kursstart”. Note that other important documents (e.g. the course reading list, and the course guide) will be made available via the tab “övriga document”. We also post information about the course in the university’s web-based learning platform, Lisam, e.g. the reading list, the course guide and the timetable. However, to gain access you must have a LiU ID (see checklist <https://liu.se/artikel/checklistor>).

The most urgent thing to have organised before the new term starts is that you get hold of the course book for the course in Second Language Pedagogy:

Lightbown, Patsy M. & Spada, Nina (2013) How Languages are Learned. 4th edn. Oxford: Oxford University

By the first seminar, which comes only a couple of days after the course introduction, you will be expected to have read chapter 2: “Explaining Language Learning” and by the second seminar you are expected to have read chapter 6: “Second Language Learning in the Classroom”. This will be difficult unless you have got hold of the book beforehand.

In case you wish to begin your preparations over the Christmas break, the first book for the literature course (Writers & Contexts) will be:

Conrad, Joseph. The Heart of Darkness. (1899) London: Penguin Classics, 2012.

Otherwise, refer to the course reading list for the remaining books for the spring term.

N.B. Please note that everyone who has applied for the course has received this letter, but it doesn't guarantee that you are eligible to start the course, since you also have to fulfil the entrance requirements.
