

Feminist Environmental Humanities Required Texts

Dear students,

I'm excited to meet you soon! Below are some of the texts we'll be reading in our course. The most important ones for now are the ones that you might want to purchase or order from your library, and I've listed these at the top.

The texts in the second list will either be provided to you via Lisam and the LiU library or are otherwise available open access.

Please keep in mind that this list might grow a bit; keep an eye on changes here and look for the complete reading information and schedule in the Key Document (to follow!).

Please also note that I have listed the texts alphabetically and not in the order in which we will read them.

There will be time for questions during our first session, but if there is something very pressing now, you can always reach me at lauren.e.lafauci@liu.se.

All best,
Lauren
