

English for Upper–Secondary Teachers, 91–105 hp

Autumn Term 2024

Course code: 9AEN73

COURSE GUIDE

The Course Structure

The course consists of four course modules, two of which are more geared to teaching language and literature: Task-Based Grammar and Teaching Literature, and two of which provide greater methodological and theoretical depth to your English studies in both language and literature: Classroom Interaction and Critical Engagements.

What Is Compulsory?

All exams, both written (including take-home assignments) and oral, are compulsory. Note that compulsory submitted written work, e.g. take-home assignments must be sent to your teacher/examiner via Ouriginal/Urkund¹.

Attendance and active participation is compulsory for all seminars and workshops².

The following provides a more detailed breakdown of the course modules and examinations:

Task–Based Grammar

Teacher: Amanda Hoskins

Teaching: task-based grammar seminars.

Content: further practical, methodological and theoretical studies in pedagogical grammar, based on a task-based approach.

Examination: written lesson plans & theoretical justification. Compulsory attendance (100%)¹ and active participation in seminars, including an oral presentation/critical discussion of the lesson plans.

¹ If you submit work through the submissions app in Lisam, this will be done automatically by your examiner.

² This means a minimum attendance requirement of 80% with make-up assignments to compensate for the seminar(s) you have missed.

Classroom Interaction

Teachers: Nigel Musk, Leelo Keevallik, Emily Hofstetter & Lotta Plejert

Teaching: brief introductory lectures combined with workshops; pairwork (for empirical study).

Content: how to analyse talk, interaction and learning in the English foreign language classroom, leading to an independent empirical study of an interactional phenomenon.

Examination: compulsory attendance at introductions and workshops (100%)³, transcriptions of video recordings (verbal and multimodal), producing and presenting a research poster and discussing others' posters, as well as writing a final research report.

Teaching Literature

Teacher: Maria Sträaf

Teaching: teaching literature seminars.

Content: further practical, methodological and theoretical studies in teaching literature.

Examination: written lesson plans & theoretical justification. Compulsory attendance (100%)⁴ and active participation in seminars, including an oral presentation/critical discussion of the lesson plans.

Critical Engagements

Teachers: Elin Käck

Teaching: introductory lecture and themed literature seminars.

Content: more advanced studies in English literature and literary theory and method. Discussions of English literature in dialogue with a number of theoretical perspectives.

Examination: compulsory attendance and prepared oral participation in seminars⁵, two written home assignments and one final essay.

Course Grading Criteria for 9AEN73

The grading criteria for each course module can be found in Lisam.

To get a VG (distinction) for the whole course you have to score a VG on a total of at least 8 hp of course modules.

³ There will be written make-up work for missing any introductions and workshops (see timetable).

⁴ There will be written make-up work for missing any introductions and workshops (see timetable).

⁵ There can be written make-up work for missing one seminar only. If a student misses more than one seminar, they will have to re-take the module the following year.
