

Feminist Environmental Humanities
Fall 2022
Required Texts

Dear students,

I'm excited to meet you soon! Below are the texts we'll be reading in our course. The most important one for now is the novel, All Over Creation by Ruth Ozeki, that you might want to purchase or order from your library, and I've listed this one at the top.

The texts in the second list will either be provided to you via Lisam and the LiU library or are otherwise available open access.

Please keep in mind that this list might grow (or shrink!) a bit; keep an eye on changes here and look for the complete reading information and schedule in the Key Document.

Please also note that I have listed the texts alphabetically and not in the order in which we will read them. If you'd like to see that order, check out the "Syllabus at a Glance" file uploaded in the "Syllabus" folder on Lisam.

There will be time for questions during our first session, but if there is something very pressing now, you can always reach me at lauren.e.lafauci@liu.se. Please note that I am mostly on parental leave at the moment and so my reply time might be somewhat delayed.

*All the best,
Lauren*
