

Health Economics and Ethics

Single subject and programme course

7.5 credits

Hälsoekonomi och etik

770G25

Valid from: 2021 Spring semester

Determined by
Course and Programme Syllabus Board at the Faculty of Arts and Sciences

Date determined
2020-06-08

Main field of study

Economics

Course level

First cycle

Advancement level

G1F

Course offered for

- Business and Economics Programme - International - Spanish
- Business and Economics Programme - International - French
- Business and Economics Programme - International - German
- Business and Economics Programme
- Master programme in Economics

Entry requirements

- Economics, basic course, 30 ECTS credits with at least 15 ECTS credits passed
- English corresponding to the level of English in Swedish upper secondary education (English 6/B)
(Exemption from Swedish)

Intended learning outcomes

After completion of the course the student should be able to:

- perform health economic calculations/analyses using appropriate methods
- interpret and critically assess health economic evaluations
- understand ethical principles of health care decision making
- analyse and integrate economic, political and ethical policy issues related to health care.

Course content

The course covers traditional health economic theory and methods. The course content includes:

- The demand and supply of health care
- Market failures in health care
- Cost effectiveness analysis
- Measurement of quality of life
- Decision analytic modelling
- Ethical implications of health care decision making
- Justice theories related to health care

Teaching and working methods

The course is taught through lectures, seminars, assignments and self-study. Language of instruction: English.

Examination

The examination consists of a written examination and ongoing assignments during the course. Detailed information can be found in the study guide.

If the LiU coordinator for students with disabilities has granted a student the right to an adapted examination for a written examination in an examination hall, the student has the right to it. If the coordinator has instead recommended for the student an adapted examination or alternative form of examination, the examiner may grant this if the examiner assesses that it is possible, based on consideration of the course objectives.

Students failing an exam covering either the entire course or part of the course twice are entitled to have a new examiner appointed for the reexamination.

Students who have passed an examination may not retake it in order to improve their grades.

Grades

Three-grade scale, U, G, VG

Other information

Planning and implementation of a course must take its starting point in the wording of the syllabus. The course evaluation included in each course must therefore take up the question how well the course agrees with the syllabus.

The course is carried out in such a way that both men's and women's experience and knowledge is made visible and developed.

Department

Institutionen för ekonomisk och industriell utveckling